

Vancouver Focus grows its recruiting operation

Vancouver Focus has long been known for its central location, professional hosting, and friendly environment. Although we have long offered recruiting services, it has only recently become a service that we are promoting. Through organic growth of our participant database and our client community, Vancouver Focus has built a recruiting system that consistently meets and exceeds our clients' (and their clients'!) expectations.

Through our quantitative work (at Justason Market Intelligence) our database is constantly growing and refreshing with a steady stream of North American Consumers. But we also have several areas of specialty:

- Affluent Vancouverites, whose net worth and incomes are in the highest percentiles
- Veterinarians
- Children, youth and young adults
- Travellers

Today our recruiting business has become a critical asset at Vancouver Focus. We are proud of our excellent record and growing reputation in this competitive area of market research.

Host, Jon Cuthbert, ties the knot

We are happy to announce that actor and lead host Jon Cuthbert married fellow actor Kaaren de Zilva on August 22. Please join us in congratulating Jon and Kaaren. We wish them the very best as they continue their journey together.

The following hilarious video starring actors Jon Cuthbert and Kaaren de Zilva should be a YouTube favourite.

Local Canadian art displayed at Vancouver Focus

November painted Vancouver gold and red. Our facility also added to its décor. Walls of Vancouver Focus are now decorated with work of artist Rick Walker, a Canadian artist based in Vancouver. Working solely in acrylics, Rick Walker often looks to the lush gardens and water views of his neighbourhood in Vancouver. Supporting local art, Vancouver Focus will display Rick Walker's paintings for the coming several months. Here are a few samples of his work.

I hope you enjoyed our December issue. Please do not hesitate to contact me at +1 604 682 4292 or director@vancouverfocus.com to book our rooms, for a quotation, or to discuss recruiting.

Kind regards,

Evgenia Skripnik
